Description

Kymaner was created in 2005 to develop Wave Energy in Portugal and remains to this date one of the few Portuguese companies exclusively devoted to this specialty.

The strength of its team translates into the remarkable experience of its founding partners and collaborators in domains such as the Oscillating Water Column and Hydropower, gathered on the largest installations of this kind developed by Portuguese engineering worldwide.

Services rendered by Kymaner correspond to its areas of qualified competence, supplying components and turnkey solutions for wave energy conversion, from Concept Development to O&M, involving:

Project Management
Mechanical Design
Quality Control
Supply Chain Development
Commissioning and Testing
Operation and Maintenance
